OUR PARK SYSTEM

The admirable paper read by Col Ensign Tuesday evening and printed in full in yesterday's GAZETTE, contains suggestions which ought to be taken up and carried out if Colorado Springs is to become what it ought to be. We have already a beautiful city but we ought not to be blind to possibilities of improvement. As the city grows, its aesthetic development should keep pace with its development in size and material prosperity. We have the elements of a beautiful extensive system of parks and parkways, but in order that the system may be properly expended and made to yield to the city all the benefits of which it is capable much work must yet be done.

As Col Ensign has suggested, a large city park might be made of the land on both sides of Monument Creek, between the western and western portions of the town. Through this driveways lined with shade trees, might be made and other driveways, connecting the parks in the city with the rural parks, should also be lined with the trees. As it is certain our city will grow very much larger within a few years, it is necessary to look ahead and to prepare now a comprehensive plan which shall take into account and make the most of our possibilities.

A committee has already been appointed to lay this matter before the city authorities, but that committee at present is backed only by the Monday Night Club. Why should we not have a City Improvement Association which might include all our citizens men and women both who are interested in the beautification of the place? The Executive committee of such an association would be backed by a body of constituents that would compel a hearing for whatever they might undertake and would be able to do much not only toward beautifying the place but toward enhancing the value of real estate in the city and its environs.

This suggestion is by no means meant to be exclusive. Possibly it might be well to accomplish the end sought in some other way as by the formation of a Parks committee in the Chamber of Commerce or by the addition to our municipal authorities of a Board of Public Parks or a Park Commissioner. But in one way or another there is something it seems to us that ought to be done and done quickly. The columns of THE GAZETTE are open to further suggestions.

GOVERNOR WAITE AS HIS FAITH

Governor Waite has again showed his good sense by appointing Mr. H. H. Grafton of Manitou a trustee of the State Normal School. His appointment of Senator McGroarty and Representative Reynolds on the World's Fair committee showed that he is not governed entirely by partisan considerations as well as his appointments to the Denver Boards of Police and Public Works. For this recognition of Republicans he is taken to task in the last number of the local organ of the People's Party which wails as follows:

> There has been considerable dissatisfaction expressed as to the course Governor Waite is pursuing. His recent appointment of McGroarty and Reynolds on the World's Fair committee met with the disfavor of this county. In the recent election the persons fought harder than those two. There are many others in Populist ranks of El Paso county who are loosing faith in the appointments and who are losing faith in the administration that has been so weak and vacillating that after having a great many friends in the state it is slapping the faces of the rank and file of the party. Before the state ticket will be a winning one it will be necessary to have the state board to the Populists at the next election. It surely will be a weak one as it stands.

We quote it in distribute in full, because it shows so exactly the spirit that animates the patriots who are taking part in this grand reform movement. They did not go into the Populist ranks seeking office—oh no! But now they expect something just the same, and propose to send Governor Waite to oblivion if he does not give them what they expect. In the words of Flanagan of Texas: What are we here for? Recognition of tried ability and worth finds no place in the Populist programme. When they win an election they want the offices and all the offices and some of them apparently, want nothing but the offices.

OH FOR THE REED RULES

The Senate has put into the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill an amendment authorizing the issue of life terms of all the clerks in the different offices of the House of Representatives. We believe that they will reverse this bill just as they did the filibuster days and night [illegible] when time after time the House was waste[illegible] until daylight Wednesday morning by a few members who filibustered against the majority and the majority was helpless.

When the new famous Reed rules were adopted by the House of the Fifty first Congress and especially after they had been worked a while the whole country recognized with the anguish cry of Democrats what was supposed because their constitutional right to block all legislation by filibustering was taken away. The last two years were counted present when they were not there and because the majority set their determination to rule.

Where the present Congress came in therefore the rules were revised and chaos took again the place of order. More time has been consumed in the House at this session in dilatory motions and other acts of filibustering than in doing business.

There is evidence that some of the Democrats are getting tired of this sort of thing. In a recent number of the Asheville Citizen for instance, we find the following protest:

> H. V. Boynton the veteran Washington correspondent now writing for the Cincinnati Tribune says that 'the Democratic leaders on the floor of the House are sighing day by day for the Reed rules. And no wonder. The Citizen scanned a report in detail of a day's proceedings of the House recently and not a thing beyond approval of the journal was accomplished and only that after an hour or more of filibustering by Kilgore whose name by the way, ought to be Kiltime. Of course this is very costly, and it will also tell against the Democratic party. As General Boynton points out, there are hundreds of bills on the calendar that have been favorably reported and should be acted on in justice to the equally large number of interests private and public, that they represent. At the end of the session all the work done in committee on these bills is wasted if the bills are not disposed of, and much of the same ground must be gone over by the new members of the next House.
> There must be a reform here or the voters will know the reason why and charge up the neglect of business to the party in power.

In the House of the Fifty first Congress there was a Republican majority of about twenty in the House of the Fifty second Congress there is a Democratic majority of more than a hundred and forty. Yet the majority ruled and did a tremendous business in the Fifty first Congress while in this Congress a small minority rules and no business can be done. The right of discussion has degenerated into a right to "kick." The petulant obstinacy of a single member has been allowed to waste whole weeks of precious time. The House has degenerated into a mob. It is no wonder that intelligent Democrats are beginning to sigh for Reed's rules.

Where Does the Hon Dink Botts Come In?

Some of the statements concerning Hoke's record have furnished to us by persons who have known him from away back can not pass us shield without impairment of the dignity and beauty of Hoke's attitude at the rising of the curtain. This is enough to say on that subject.

We turn with pleasure to such honest tributes of admiration as [illegible] from Mr. H. L. Spraggs of Athens in the Constitution:

> Dink Botts really has many friends in Pike, but few admirers. He is a fake and a coward and a liar.

Yah there Hoke Smith. He lives in Augusta and is a bosom friend of the Hon. Dink Botts of Lumpkin county, Georgia.

It was Dink and Hoke who carried the 9th Georgia for the Hon. Grover Cleveland. Now why shouldn't Hoke come in for a part of the spoils of the late victory. Why Dink.

We reply Hoke should come in. If he [illegible] as alleged has selected a foreign [illegible] and reasonable just Democrat in every way. When Mr. Cleveland for recognizing in his appointment of assistant secretary of the interior of [illegible] principle of practical politics [illegible] the letter.

Behold Dink. According to Mr. Spraggs' way of Hoke alone that carried the 9th for Mr. Cleveland it was Dink and Hoke. Where does the Hon. Dink Botts of Lumpkin [illegible] Shall Hoke be taken up Dink [illegible]—N. Y. Sun.

Noble as its representatives and they will select the seventh.

Thursday afternoon a portion of the property of the company was visited. The company has nine claims on Bachelor mountain in the vicinity of the great mines and five claims at Sunny Side, known as the Antlers group. The assessment work has been done on all of them. The properties visited however, is where the principal work has been done on Bachelor. These claims are nine in number and all lie together, making about 4,500 feet of land laid out along the supposed course of the Amethyst vein, as it has been opened up. This makes three-fourths of a mile and if the company can secure the big vein they will have the biggest mine in the state as regards territory. The True Friend and Best Friend claims are laid out in a northerly and southerly direction, and have two extensions in the same direction. The others have been laid out with an eastern and western direction. The south end line of the property is about 1,500 feet from the north end line of the great Amethyst mine. The company in the past year has done a great deal of work on its property and three different shafts were started. Only one of them has given much encouragement and this is now being worked. It is located about forty feet from the west line of the True Friend claim and not far from the south end line. Over this has been erected a most substantial shaft house, 25x35 feet, with corrugated iron roof. The company also has other substantial buildings, including a boarding house for the men, stables, etc. One of the most interesting is a log fort that was used last fall when a man named Pat Moran attempted to jump the property. The matter created considerable comment in the newspapers at the time. In the shaft house the improvements have been of the most substantial kind. The machinery in use is a Flat Friction engine of 24 horse power, a 85-horse power boiler, and a Kennedy & Pierce steam hoist. The water from the shaft is used in the boilers. The shaft is 4x8 feet in size and has been sunk to a depth of 200 feet. It has been well "cribbed" all the way and is being "lined" on all four sides. An inspection of the work proved most satisfactory to the owners. At a depth of 130 feet a vein of mineral was encountered. This assayed about 25 ounces in silver, with a small amount of gold. The Amethyst vein, which everyone in that part of the camp is trying to find, runs nearly north and south, but this vein found in the Park Regent runs nearly east and west, so that it is evident that it is not the big treasure. The shaft was accordingly sent on straight down to a depth of 200 feet and at that depth a drift was run for eighteen feet to catch the vein again, which of course had dipped away. Here the vein was cut again. It proves to be about five feet wide, with clearly defined hanging and foot walls. The walls are both of trachite and the vein matter is quartz and talc. About two feet of it is talc, very soft. Most of the quartz has a slight amethyst stain. What it will assay is not known yet. This ore has been stored away in filling up the floor of the shaft house, to be shipped at some future time.

Mr. Poole, the manager, Mr. Crawford, the manager of the Lost Chance, and others who have examined the property, express the belief that this is either a spur from the main vein or a cross vein. The... have been encountered in the big mines. Mr Poole believes the apex of the main vein lies about 100 feet east of his shaft, and if so it is but a matter of sinking something like 100 feet until it will be met as it dips into the hill. Ordinarily it would be policy to follow the spur to the main vein but the slant of the hill and the great amount of water in the shaft seem to argue against this. However these are matters that only interest the members of the company.

A peculiarly absorbing fact about the shaft in Cleopatra is the only one on the hill that has encountered water to any considerable extent. This is usually considered a good indication in silver mining. The greatest depth in the Lexington mines is something over 500 feet and yet they have not encountered water. That is a possibility, however, at any time. The Park Regent company have ten men employed, under Foreman Dunlap, an experienced miner. The company is now proceeding to secure patents on its various claims and has already taken the preliminary legal steps.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS.

The are some interesting facts in relation to the mining properties on Bachelor mountain, and one of these is that Colorado Springs people have with one exception secured all the best properties, outside of the three big mines. The Del Monte is on one end of them and the Cleopatra and Park Regent on the other. A great deal of Colorado Springs money has gone into developing the properties and more is likely to go there, for it is a tempting bait. To stand on your own property and look a few hundred feet ahead where another man is taking out two or three hundred thousand dollars a month on his land is apt to make one want to try his luck, no matter what the cost. The question is often asked why is it that these three mines should have been discovered almost at grass roots, while people in the immediate vicinity have had to dig and dig to a great depth without much result. The reason is just this. Almost the entire face of the mountain is covered with soft rock or shale to a depth of one or two hundred feet. The mountain is very steep and just below the three big mines it is almost a precipice. Here the soft shale rock has slid off into the depths below, leaving the vein almost exposed on the surface. Nature did for these mines what the poor miners must wait for themselves further north and south if they discover other great mines. Had the top rock remained in place it is entirely possible that the Park Regent would never have been discovered. The output from these mines is remarkable and the owners claim that it is growing better with depth.

Whether one takes a trip to the south end part of the city for the purpose of inspecting a mine or not it is certainly worth almost twice the ride. The Lord could have made a more beautiful picture than that presented from the Rio Grande railroad as it runs through the San Luis valley, but the Lord never has made a more beautiful picture. Perhaps a better meal can be spread in Colorado than one gets in the Victoria hotel in Alamosa, but a better one is not served in the state.

There is more money to be made in Cripple Creek real estate just now than in any other investment. For information call on Kissel, Otis & Connor, 104 Pike's Peak Ave.

Rev Kerr B Tupper, D D., will give his celebrated lecture on "Gladstone," in the First Baptist church, this city, on Thursday, March 2 This lecture is very highly spoken of by press and people.

The members of El Paso lodge No 15, A. F. and A. M., are requested to meet at Masonic hall this morning at 10 o'clock sharp, to attend the funeral of Brother McIntyre of Colorado City lodge, No 76

The Washington celebration and tea party at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening was a great success financially The proceeds have not as yet been exactly reckoned but they are in the neighborhood of $100.

Remember that it is now the proper time to put in your tax schedules for the year. Assessor Irvine is ready to receive them. By calling at the office you will have an opportunity to compare the schedule with that of last year.

"Fun on the Bristol," replete with sparkling music, bright catchy songs, grotesque dancing, novel specialties and handsome scenery, will be the attraction at the opera house Monday evening. Reserved seats can now be secured at popular prices

Only two days yet remain in which to secure tickets for the Glee club concert. Tickets can be secured at the superintendent's office in the new building. Do not let the opportunity pass of seeing the new hall, hearing the Glee club and helping pay for the piano.

Washington's birthday was quite generally observed in the city yesterday, but in a very quiet way. Many of the business houses were closed, as well as the public offices. The younger element devoted itself largely to athletic games, while the book social was the chief attraction with the older people.

Rev. Dr. Montague, pastor of the First Baptist church, expects to return from his trip to Mexico in time to occupy his pulpit next Sunday. Mr. Montague is collecting a fine set of views of Mexico for use in an illustrated lecture on our sister republic entitled, "Glimpses of Mexico." This will be delivered in Colorado Springs soon after his return. He is also preparing an address on "Religion in Mexico," to which he has given much study during his visit.

At the meeting of Badito Lodge, No. 24, A. O. U. W., last Monday evening, there was a very pleasant incident which came as a surprise to one of the members. A mock trial was part of the programme and Mr. Peter Schmitt was the victim. He was found guilty and Past master L. K. Cole, the judge, found it necessary to pronounce a sentence. He sentenced Mr. Schmitt to wear a very handsome gold badge, as a gift from the members. The gift was in recognition of Mr. Schmitt's long services in behalf of the organization. He has been in office for three years and has just retired as Past-master Workman The badge is very handsome. Pendant from a bar is a harp-shaped device at the top of which is an elk head. Below the head are the anchor and shield and other insignia of of the lodge. On one side are engraved the words, "Badito No. 24, Colorado Springs." On the other side is inscribed, "Presented to Peter Schmitt, P. M. W., Feb. 20, 1893."

Arrangements to Resume Work.

A force of men is being organized to resume work on the Anaconda mine at Cripple Creek. The work will be resumed on the 1st of March. It is not known how large the force will be, as that will depend upon circumstances. The foreman will be Mr. Hoskins, who has been a long time connected with the mine and is familiar with it. It has also been arranged that either the general manager or one of the directors will be at the property nearly all the time. A force of men will be put at work on the Great View getting out the low grade ore, and also in the big cut on the Superior The company stands in better shape than ever before with the debts paid, money in the treasury and an opportunity to dispose of the low grade ore right at the mine, as the French syndicate mill will be ready in a few weeks

BUSINESS NOTES.

Holbrook & Perkins will close out the old Shimp stock at auction on Saturday evening of this week. Great bargains in the clothing and furnishing line can be had there now while the special sale continues.

The special sales of new importations of French and novelty dress goods at Giddings Bros. & Bent's continues to attract many people They are also offering other bargains in various lines never before equalled by them

Holiday Athletics.

Some of the younger boys connected with The Gazette played a team of the boys from the Lowell school a game of baseball yesterday morning. The game was interesting and closely played, the result being a score of 6 to 4 in favor of The Gazettes.

Yesterday afternoon two football teams selected from among the employees of the Gazette office met in a friendly game at the grounds near the Lowell school building The game was played under the association rules, and the captains of the various sides were Fred Scribner and Charles Morrin The team headed by Morrin won with a score of 2 to 1 The game was hotly contested and there was a good amount of sport The chronic kickers were all present, also the black masked There were lady spectators too The special rules of the gentleman with the whiskers will never be forgotten by those who witnessed the game Some of the men insisted on playing Rugby rules, and the arguments over these points of the game were long and heated The calls for help by one of the goal keepers were pitiful indeed

At about 2 p m yesterday a small crowd gathered in the vacant lot on South Wahsatch avenue just below Costilla street to watch a game of base ball between two teams of juniors captained by Jesse Hines and Frank Mohler The game was very interesting throughout and many brilliant plays were made by both sides, but Hines's team showed longer practice and easily won by a score of 18 to 6.

There was a very fair sized audience at the ball grounds in the north part of the city yesterday to witness the game between the College and High school base ball teams. The High school boys won by a score of 16 to 9 after a very interesting game.

Wells-Foster.

Mr. W H. Wells and Miss Lena N. Foster were united in marriage last evening in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The marriage occurred at the First Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock, Rev. L. L. Taylor officiating. Mrs. E. F. Welles presided at the organ, and at the appointed hour the wedding party entered the church, preceded by the ushers, Messrs. M. F. Curtis and Jas. P. Sherer. The minister met them at the altar, and in performing the ceremony used the beautiful and impressive Episcopal service.

The bride was attired in a very handsome costume of French abatross and bengaline silk, richly trimmed with lace and ribbon, and made in princess style After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wells left for a trip to Denver. They were the recipients of a number of very handsome presents

Mr. Wells is a prominent young business man in the eastern part of the county, and is the secretary of the Gates Live Stock company. His bride is a sister of Mr. W. J. Foster of this city, has long been a resident here and is known as one of the most successful teachers in the public schools of the county.

An interesting place to make a visit during these winter months is the greenhouse of William Clark. It is one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in the west. The business is almost entirely wholesale. Mr. Clark sells his floral products in Utah, Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming, and also has a large trade in Denver At Salt Lake the flowers come in competition with California products, but are considered superior as the hot house plants last longer than the natural flowers. Mr. Clark has 6000 English violet plants.

Business lots on Bennett Ave., between Second and Fourth Sts., in Cripple Creek have advanced 25 per cent. within the past ten days. Kissel, Otis & Connor of 104 Pike's Peak Ave., were large purchasers yesterday.

Mr. H. P. Lillibridge has returned from an extended visit in the east.

Work Mining Co. Stock.

WHY?

Because its intrinsic value is far in excess of the market quotation It is one of the most intelligently managed properties in the "Camp." There are vast quantities of this stock going east daily. This alone will have an upward effect on the stock. It will become a dividend payer before the expiration of 1893. Buy it at once and lay aside

Have You Heard the Latest?

We are Going to Fail!

Some of our would be competitors have it fixed up that way They say that we are selling goods at such ruinous prices that we cannot last long But be that as it may, we propose to open the fall this spring with some hard hitters. We rather enjoy that kind of thing, and know that our customers do, because they tell us about it We are adding another salesroom to our store, which will be in shape by next Monday, we hope Those who have watched us grow during the past three and a half years know what kind of people we are We are here in the interests of the cash trade and ourselves To those who wish to pay cash, we can save from 25 to 50 per cent For credit please call on the other fellows Watch this space for proofs that you have never been quoted by any other house in this section

Yours very truly
